⌕ HTTP Injection API

The On-Demand Injection API provides users with the ability to send outbound messages through HTTP POST requests, as opposed to standard SMTP message injection which is also supported by SocketLABS On-Demand. The Injection API provides users with both the ability to do inline mail merges in a single HTTP POST request, and the choice of JSON or XML based on their application and business needs. We encourage you to try out these features. Click here for additional documentation. SocketLABS Injection API
