Why Digitize Your Supply Chain?

Today, many industrial companies plan their shipping and inventories using a myriad of spreadsheets, often in combination with an all-encompassing ERP system.

To get the full picture, companies are forced to undertake the time-consuming and error-prone task of piecing together information from spreadsheets, various systems and e-mails – that by the time completed, is often too late to take proactive measures. This can have costly implications.

Why CargoValue?

LIVE CARGO TRACKING

View your cargo movements in real-time, track progress and identify any potential delays to take action early before they become critical and costly:

- Avoid demurrage: Identify and address delays early
- Reduce supply risk: Re-align shipping plan in real-time
- Improve collaboration: Team collaborates on the same real-time schedule

Key Facts
