A planning center makes it easy to add stories, tasks and bugs to your backlog and create new sprints.

Agility with a social touch.

Post statuses and comments to take discussions online. This lets people say things at a convenient time and makes distributed teams feel closer

Know where each task stands.

The in-product Scrum board lets you visualize work in every sprint and also quickly drag-and-drop your tasks between columns as you progress.

Keep the conference room close.

The comprehensive Meetings module lets you schedule sprint reviews, retrospectives, and automate daily stand-up reminders

Keep improving with analytics.

Velocity charts, burn-down reports and cumulative flow diagrams help you turn raw data into actionable insights. Learn from each sprint and get more out of the next!

Track your hours.

The Timesheets module helps users log billable and non-billable hours for the work they did. This helps you provide transparency to your customers and clients.
