REQUIREMENTS

Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central

The setup behind a single item in your Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central solution can be a long and involved process. Variants, stockkeeping units, prices, and bills of materials all take time to define, and the process of manually creating these values for every new item record leaves the potential for inconsistencies and errors.

With the bcExtensions Copy Item feature, you can take advantage of the data in your Business Central solution and create new items by copying your existing records. You can select from a list of over 20 different item characteristics to include in your copy activity, giving you total freedom in determining which values you copy.

Copy Item makes it possible for you to do in seconds what used to take minutes to accomplish. Simple and easy to use, Copy Item eliminates manual busywork, letting you to spend your time in more productive ways.
