Sycor.MasterDataSync – The simple solution for automatic and flexible master data management

Would you like to have one central place to manage all relevant ERP master data, even though different parts of your organization need some variations in the data? And without worrying about big administration efforts and management overhead for transferring the data to different ERP companies? With Sycor.MasterDataSync, we deliver a solution that solves many typical issues in master data distribution across companies. When you manage your master data in a particular master data company (MDO) then Sycor.Master-DataSync can automatically distribute that data to a number of receiving legal entities.

The more data and changes you have, the more receiving parties you have, or the more subtle differences you need, the greater the benefits you will receive. For example, a big number of items and big number of companies are strong indicators that good master data distribution is hard to maintain with standard means. The key idea is that whenever your central master data has changed, then Sycor.MasterDataSync will automatically transfer all new data to all applying companies. The solution also supports standard approvals and workflows. The configuration is easy to read and can be easily structured. A rule based distribution engine allows controlling and adjusting data for different targets. Automate the process to share master data within AX – automatically distribute data from particular master data companies and distribute to a number of receiving companies – which integrates to outer processes.
