The PHULUKISA solution uses technology that can be operated by nurses to screen patients

The cloud platform is accessed by primary care workers from a tablet to onboard data which physicians can view remotely

We make use of:

- Questionnaires
- Measurables
- Point-of-care blood tests
- X-rays
- Vision screening and
- Hearing tests to form a picture of the client's health status remotely

Our propriety Azure-based algorithms assesses the data inputs and classifies the need to access more health services and the timing thereof. Remote viewing also allows off-site management.

Having copies of their electronic health records, empowers patients to be more engaged with their own well-being.
