

Bringing technology down to earth

We provide growers with advanced, yet practical web-based and mobile technology for the farm.

What We Believe

At TapLogic, we believe farming is the best way of life in America. We know if farmers find something useful, they will employ it. We believe in building smart, reliable tools so farmers can manage their operations with efficiency. We believe in and stand behind our products, our customers, and their operations. Customer Service is our greatest asset. We believe when a farmer calls, a human being should answer the phone. We believe in listening. We believe in building better products based on customer feedback.

What We Do

At TapLogic, we are focused on farmers. For them, we develop useful, reliable information tools. Simple by design and easy to use, these web and mobile based solutions are created to put information in the right hands at the right time. We provide growers with advanced, yet practical web-based and mobile technology for the farm. Our products support growers in building better record sets and using them to increase the efficiency of their operations.

Who We Are

At TapLogic, our strategy is simple. We hire the smartest and most passionate people we can find. We value efficiency, simplicity, and common sense. We place great emphasis on maintaining a transparent, customer driven, and intellectually honest environment. Across all departments, TapLogic is a highly dedicated team working together to produce the most reliable, effective, and useful farm technology today.
