

What We Do...

Venture 1 Consulting is a Consultancy and Managed Service provider, working predominantly with Microsoft Cloud and On-premise infrastructure technologies.

We work with customers to maximise the benefits from their modern technology investments by helping them reduce costs, simplify their environments and increase security whilst delivering the tools end users require to be collaborative and productive.

Who We Are...

Established in 2000, our specialist team of architects, consultants and technicians have many years' experience delivering complex IT infrastructure solutions to enterprise customers within both the public and private sectors.

Our Values...

Honesty

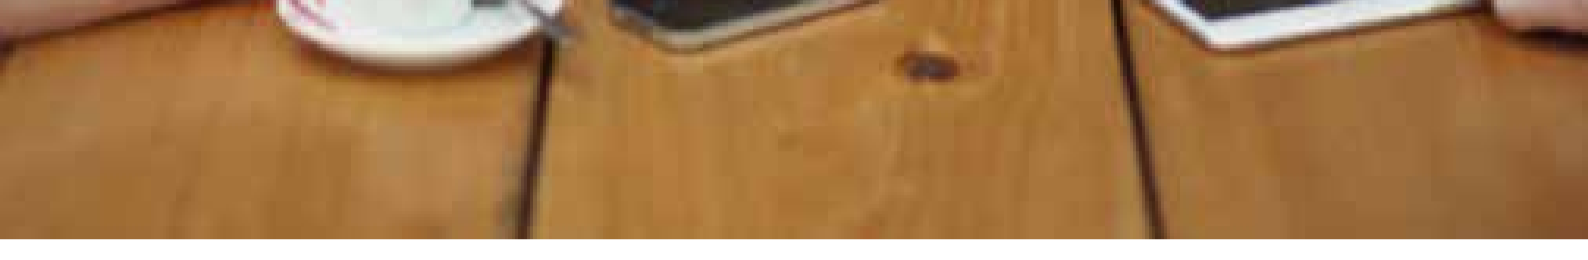

Acting with integrity, openness and inclusiveness

Excellence

Commitment to the highest possible levels of quality and professionalism

Enjoyment

Delivering with a positive attitude in everything we do

Our Solutions...

Modern Workplace

In today's modern workplace, users require secure, easy access to applications and data – irrespective of location and device. Using current technologies we can provide users with a fresh, collaborative and highly secure environment which embraces modern working practices. Designed for a dynamic workforce and the teams that support them, it simplifies management and administration, whilst providing a rich, unified and consistent user experience.

Modern Infrastructure

Today's organisations expect IT services that are agile, scalable and cost-effective, and achieving this using purely on-premise data centres can often be a challenge. The ever-evolving capabilities of the public cloud provide modern organisations with real opportunities to both deliver faster and save money. We help our clients get the best out of what the cloud has to offer, by working with them to find the right mix of cloud and on-premise services for their specific needs.

Business Continuity

As data grows exponentially, the ability to store, back up and recover data is becoming an increasing challenge for organisations of all sizes. Choosing the right suite of solutions to protect their business is one of the essential decisions all of today's CIOs face. The ever expanding use of cloud technologies means businesses are now able to make use of a completely new range of cloud-based business continuity options.

“There hasn't been a time when we've been to Venture 1 with a project and they haven't been able to assist”.

Why work with us?

What you see is what you get...

Our pre-sales consultants are typically the consultants who deliver the subsequent work, enabling partners to meet and build up a trusted relationship with the same people their clients will deal with.

We only employ excellence...

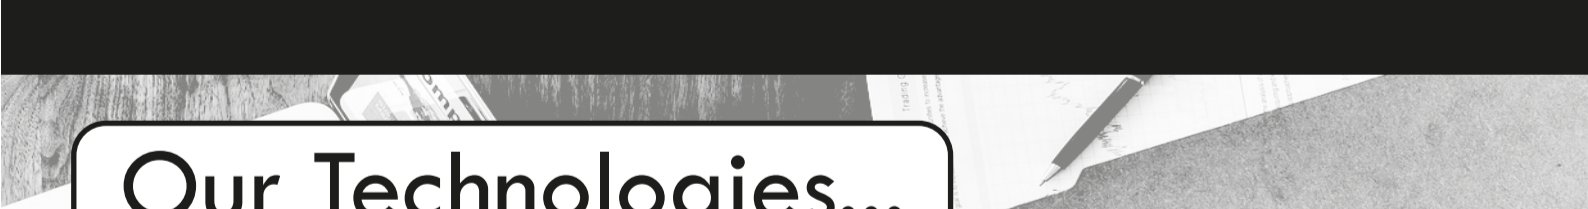

We operate a rigorous recruitment process to ensure we find the right calibre people. We have no concept of 'good enough' because it isn't.

We're thorough...

We always deliver to the highest of standards, and we never leave customers in the lurch. At the end of an engagement our wrap-up is comprehensive, ensuring appropriate handover, training and skills transfer.

We don't hide behind case studies

We prefer potential partners and clients to hear about us by talking to our existing customers, rather than via case studies and testimonials alone.
