

Federal Landing Zone Workshop

Create a plan to quickly deploy cloud infrastructure in Azure

AIS' 1-day workshop provides you with and understand and path forward for implementing a secure and scalable cloud infrastructure to migrate and modernize applications.

Cloud transformation has 3 stages of maturity: Migrate, Innovate, and Enable. AIS' Landing Zone Implementation helps organizations deploy cloud infrastructure quickly to begin migrating and modernizing in Azure. Following the Landing Zone, AIS will help you with the next phases, Innovate and Enable, where you will begin to realize the true impact of Cloud-Native capabilities.

Engagement Approach

PART ONE Education

Discuss best practices for deployment of core infrastructure components (networking, identity, access, connectivity, etc.) to support workload migration. Review operational best practices for monitoring and management once live.

PART TWO Planning

Establish migration goals and objectives to define a high-level plan for a Landing Zone, incorporating best practices and approaches outlined in the AIS Cloud Delivery Framework.

Why AIS?

As a certified Gold Microsoft Partner, we have deep expertise in helping enterprise organizations achieve cloud transformation on Azure. We began working with Microsoft Azure in 2008 and have been working closely with the Microsoft product teams ever since. AIS has pioneered many Azure firsts, from ATO in IL6 and Azure Blueprints to building our own Service Catalog and Delivery Framework for better automation, speed, and quality of delivery. Our innovative approaches and technical depth have earned us the privilege of experience in designing, implementing, and modernizing some of the most complex and highly regulated cloud environments. On top of this, we have global 24/7/365 cloud operations and maintenance support services, managed security, and governance solutions to make your transition to the cloud seamless. We aren't just cloud vendors – our approach to enabling cloud transformation earns us the role of a trusted and strategic partner for our clients. Take your next step into the cloud with confidence and reach out to AIS today.
