

Ignite for Information Protection

Protect your sensitive information, no matter where it lives or travels.

27% of data breaches are caused by human error and could easily be prevented with better education, protocol and protections*

The amount of sensitive data organizations create and manage is growing. With users storing data in various locations, and the need to share data with business partners and customers, the risk of data breaches and loss of intellectual property increases. It is important to be able to provide access to sensitive data when required by business processes, but also imperative to ensure data is protected and security policies are adequately observed.

Apex Digital Solutions recognizes the impact these challenges can have on business productivity. Ignite for Information Protection addresses concerns about security and costly services.

Our Solution

Ignite for Information Protection provides best practice guidance and deployment support for Azure Information Protection (AIP), enabling secure documents and email, document and record retention policies, and the ability to track sensitive data.

Apex Digital Solutions works with your team to:

- Overview and roadmap for AIP and Office 365 Sensitivity & Retention labels in alignment with organization requirements
- Provision up to five unified or AIP labels and deploy to a pilot group with training to drive adoption of the pilot
- Review AIP and Office 365 Unified Labeling client deployment strategies and best practices with the desktop support team
- Configure Office 365 Message Encryption and establish policies to ensure proper functionality

Microsoft Azure Information Protection (AIP) is a cloud-based solution that helps classify, label, and protect email and documents. Once content has been classified, users and IT can easily track and control how it is used, accessed, and shared.

AIP is offered as a user subscription license and can be purchased standalone or through one of the following suites: Microsoft 365 Enterprise, Microsoft 365 Compliance, Microsoft 365 Business, or Enterprise Mobility + Security.

Apex Digital Solutions can assist with your evaluation, purchase, deployment, and success management of AIP.
