

Orbital Witness

- more insight in less time -

Orbital Witness is a LegalTech startup whose mission is to reduce the amount of time and energy real estate lawyers spend gathering and reviewing information, allowing them to get on with the job of providing useful, clear advice to clients.

"If every fee-earner had access to this it would significantly improve the efficiency of any due diligence process."

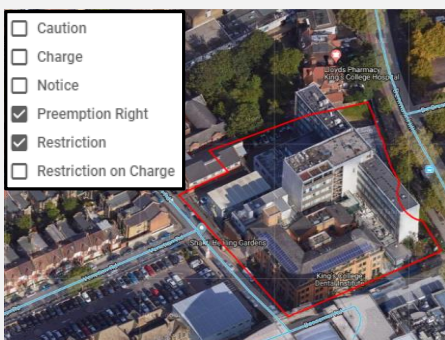

- Associate, Mishcon de Reya

"Without any effort I am better informed as to what it is that my client is looking to acquire or develop."

- Partner, Reed Smith

With Orbital Witness you can:

- Get ahead and meet deadlines – you can explore live data about the property in real time without wasting time waiting for information to be sent through or ordered.
- Save time and cost – Orbital Witness combines and summarises property data and visuals from multiple websites you use, saving you precious hours.
- Improve your understanding of a site – Orbital Witness makes it easy to understand and review large or complex sites, portfolios and occupational interest structures.
- Make your advice stand out – Create a clear site plan, download and share reports in minutes that will help you to communicate issues quickly and effectively.
