KEYRUS AVIATOR

Within the Cloud journey, Keyrus Aviator operates in stages: analysis of data scenarios, architecture and risk, definition of technologies and providers, allocation of resources and infrastructure activation, and then manage services such as planning and demand management, operation of environments and tools, methodology and governance, as well as interlocution with suppliers and support.

As cloud solution architects, we fully understand your business and technology, and we can design and build truly transformative solutions. We use the Well-Architected Framework and Cloud Adoption Framework on all projects following the five pillars (Safety, Reliability, Performance Efficiency, Cost Optimization and Operational Excellence) with in mind to create projects and sustain that will remain reliable, safe and scalable over time.
