

Dean Dorton Power BI and Analytics 3-Day Accelerator Workshop

Begin Your Data Journey

We believe data can deliver predictive analysis that drives agile business decision making for the fast-paced and always evolving market organizations of all sizes. You have more data than you know what to do with and “managing” it isn’t getting you the results you want or need. You need a more rewarding relationship with your data but are not sure where to start.

This 3-day Accelerator Workshop is your chance to thoughtfully refresh and rebuild your data infrastructure into your new business partner.

What is included in the Power BI and Analytics 3-Day Accelerator Workshop?

During Dean Dorton’s Power BI and Analytics Accelerator workshop, organizations work through a combination of technical and business focused objectives that teach end users Power BI and help them understand the broader analytics journey for the organization.

Created from our years of experience and hundreds of successful projects, this workshop is proven to help you:

- Identify existing data sources in your organization and determine an optimal strategy for insights from your organization's data
- Learn the fundamentals of Power BI Desktop and the Power BI Service
- Create an initial dashboard from your data
- Formulate your organization's analytics journey to continue using data after this workshop
