

Predictive Appointment Management

4-week Jumpstart Program

Patient's missed appointments are long-standing issues affecting resource utilization and posing risks to the quality of healthcare services. Unattended medical appointments not only have a direct negative impact on patient's health, but, also lead to loss of anticipated revenue.

Hanu's Predictive Appointment Management helps in predicting the probability of patients missing their appointments based on AI and Machine Learning programs that have changed the game for organizations.

Hanu offers a Predictive Analytics 4-Week Jumpstart Program that can drive insights into potential "Missed Appointments" and help to mitigate the impact of missed revenue while increasing patient care and satisfaction.
