

Manufacturing

GyrusAim and Manufacturing:

Manufacturers have unique business challenges that they must meet consistently. They must compete in a global economy, find cost effective production solutions, expand markets for their products and generate profits despite ever-increasing regulatory pressures.

Manufacturers must maintain an employee culture oriented to competency acquisition and process improvement to successfully compete. Training is not a cost but an integral part of success. GyrusAim was designed to support ISO9001 competency management efforts, as well as OSHA, EPA and DOT compliance training.

How can GyrusAim help plant employees?

- Improves productivity by proactively 'pushing' training to employees based on skill requirements.
- Allows employees to view their Individual Development plans to improve career progression.
- Certification management helps reduce compliance incidents and risk and increases morale.

How about your Training Administrators?

- Keep track of plant employees to ensure safety regulations have been acquired.
- Track employee training to confirm certifications have been achieved.
- Easily monitor Individual Development Plans to support talent management efforts.
- Automates competency management efforts easily and effectively.
