

Why Project Managers Choose

The Challenge

The chaos of orchestrating communication and collaboration between multiple resources and systems spanning companies and phases is a unique challenge in the AEC. Lose control of any of these variables and you've failed your primary charge to deliver quality, on time and on budget all while minimizing risk.

The Solution

A system that creates a centralized location for all your project management and communications needs, integrated with the business tools you already know how to use, providing information management and control across tools, that is also easy to learn & use.

The Result

With ProjectReady, quickly build your project, know exactly what you have to do, take action, control content across systems, and communicate across your entire team, all in the context of your project.

Why Document Controllers Choose

ProjectReady®

The Challenge

Interoperability across multiple platforms means searching multiple systems for specific project content/communications. Managing all this content while staying on top of deadlines across multiple projects & struggling with user accessibility & governance is the chaos that a document controller deals with daily.

The Solution

A way to manage content across multiple document repositories in a single user experience, as a single workflow, bound to one project ID. Providing a simple way to integrate the business tools you already own, to centrally manage communications & approval of content

The Result

With ProjectReady, document control is connected from the start & is as simple as filling out a form & adding files from SharePoint, BIM 360, BOX & Procore into a content cart. Assign the right content to the right member of your team, automatically create coversheets, track & audit approvals across your projects.

Why IT Professionals Choose

ProjectReady®

The Challenge

In the AEC, IT has the unique challenge of supporting a project's demands across multiple systems, managing security & governance for team members inside & outside their organization, to make sure that the content your company has created & owns is always in your control. With limited budget & resources, the more platforms and moving parts, makes this challenge that much more difficult.

The Solution

A system that eliminates routine IT project administration through the automation of security, governance, & provisioning to provide one place for all your team's project management & communication needs. A system that integrates the business tools you already know how to use, providing information management & control across your systems, & is easy to learn & use.

The Result

ProjectReady empowers IT leaders to confidently delegate project administration to Project Managers. ProjectReady automates a governed process that meets the standards of the enterprise, across systems, companies, & the extended project team, providing more value from the systems you own & maximizing the value you bring to your company.
