

MANUFACTURO
look beyond

Open your Mind to the new way of manufacturing

Andea specializes in delivering manufacturing technology services and solutions; from conducting technical assessments and providing strategic manufacturing systems to managing global manufacturing system roll-outs.

Based on our experience we have built a cloud-based platform, to help change the way you buy, implement, and use manufacturing solutions. Manufacturo can be used to deploy pre-built applications that will improve manufacturing efficiency, quality, and ensure compliance. These apps can be implemented in a matter of weeks and can be used standalone, or as a part of an enterprise solution. Rip and replace is not required as the new apps can integrate with existing manufacturing systems.
