

Best practices for sharing the Home Use Program with employees

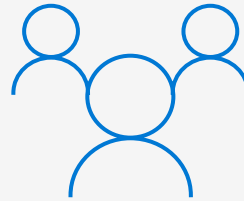

Microsoft Store for Business portal is easy to use

Share the Home Use Program discount offer with your eligible employees in just four quick steps.

Leverage customizable assets

Inform your employees that they can use the Home Use Program for creativity and productivity, such as co-branded email, digital and print flyers, as well as social media pre-written feeds.

Utilize internal communications

Let your employees know that with the Home Use Program they can collaborate across devices from anywhere, as well as store and share files using OneDrive cloud storage.

Add to current company benefit programs

If your organization uses a Human Resource Employee Purchase Program (EPP), work with that team to inform employees about the Home Use Program.

We welcome your feedback

Let us know what other materials we can provide to help you communicate and promote the Home Use Program benefit to your employees.