

GyrusAim and Healthcare:

Today the healthcare industry is considered one of the largest industries throughout the world. This industry includes thousands of hospitals and institutions that will provide primary, secondary & tertiary level of care. In order to deliver this care, these healthcare industries require health care workers, who must have the proper training and certifications to successfully and efficiently carry out their work.

How can GyrusAim help Nurses and Doctors?

- Healthcare providers have certain certifications and standards they must adhere to and with GyrusAim, they can receive reminders as well as track training.
- An Individual Development Plan lets the medical professionals know what skills they must obtain and whether or not they successfully obtained them.
- Enroll or waitlist into classes.
- View transcripts

How about your Training Administrators?

- Training administrators can keep track of hospital personnel as well as meet regulatory compliance standards.
- The ability to generate reports to track students and organization training activity.
- Access to archived students or courses to satisfy government or federal inquiries.
- Easily enter student data into evaluations and create reports based on results.
- Access to terminated employees to review their records or re-activate them
