

Well Architected Review

Discovery

When you're set on moving to the cloud you need to be confident you're going to get it done properly. To adopt Azure your first step is to fully understand what your cloud requirements are. The Well Architected Review – Discovery starts by understanding your assessment data and bringing it to life. We'll work with you to make sense of it and map it against your requirements.

Make sense of your assessment data

Our cloud migration assessment takes a ton of data and we make sense of it, turning it into a clear roadmap and business case for migrating your on-premise infrastructure to Microsoft Azure.

Identify your target state

Build workloads with confidence based on proven deep technical guidance, that is actionable and simple to use, and helps you identify potential barriers to the cloud. See the necessary steps to build reliable, secure, and cost-efficient solutions, and prioritise the actions that will yield the best posture of your workloads.

Leverage Microsoft funding

Work with Cloud Direct as we've got the closest possible relationship with access to assessments and funding to help guide your Azure migration.
