

Learn about Azure's cost structure, and how to reduce spend with Azure 101 Cost Workshop

ABOUT Azure 101 Cost Workshop:

Learning the fundamentals of how Azure is billed is critical to reducing your spend and making sure you have exactly the resources you need. The Azure 101 Cost Workshop consists of 2 meetings a year, one immediately after purchasing an Azure subscription, and another meeting 1-3 months after utilizing Azure.

What can we do for you?

We offer strategic assistance in many areas, including Microsoft products and services, infrastructure, security, IT operations, and business analysis. Our professionals are always ready to help your business thrive.

WHAT WE OFFER

We have the Microsoft experience and expertise to analyze your workloads and make recommendations for reducing your Azure spend without forfeiting any functionality.

In our preliminary workshop, our clients will be briefed on: How Azure's metered usage works, the cost structure, how to turn machines on and off, and more.

Once our clients have had a couple months of usage, we then set up a second meeting because we are able to see inefficiencies, extra costs, and provide recommendations

The second meeting, catered to the clients' specific needs, generally consists of: Setting up alerts when budgets are surpassed, breaking down of cost by resource, identification of areas to optimize, and more.

Finchloom as a CSP will assist your business in choosing the right Azure subscriptions. We also offer a variety of services to manage and optimize your Azure subscriptions if you would like to utilize our expert resources. The entire workshop is offered free of charge for clients purchasing Azure through Finchloom.
