

Virteva Teams Implementation and End User Adoption Excellence

While Microsoft Teams often gets labeled as “yet another meeting tool,” it is well on its way to becoming the “new operating system,” as it continuously evolves to become an even more comprehensive aggregation application. Its ability to consolidate downstream services and third-party tools into a single unified interface makes it so much more than a remote meeting tool. Between full integration with Office 365 applications—like OneDrive for Business, SharePoint Online, PowerBI, Power Apps, Lists, and many others—and the capability to integrate third-party applications, Virteva is equipped to give you the means to implement Teams into all areas of your organization, ultimately allowing you to streamline processes, collaboration, and communication.

Driving Teams’ value in your organization where it counts – with your users.

“Virteva’s Microsoft Teams experts were wonderful to work with, and even our own training team raved about how much they learned and benefitted from your training and enablement personnel! We knew we had a big cultural change ahead in our company with the transition to Teams, but Virteva made it smoother and more effective than any other project we’ve undertaken before.”

WHAT WE OFFER

Virteva’s Teams experts provide excellence in configuration combined with world-class Training and Enablement specialization.

In Virteva’s experience with Teams, it’s generally proven to be true that, in order to effectively implement Microsoft Teams and have it become a valuable and enhancing part of your organization, it’s necessary to approach the platform by looking at it beyond a technical lens. As flawless as your technical implementation of Teams may be, if your end users cannot use and understand the platform to its full capacity, it doesn’t lead to effective use and can be of limited value.

Don’t go through the process of implementation alone and risk the chance of forgetting anything essential to your employees’ productivity. As a service provider with years of firsthand experience with Teams implementations, Virteva is highly regarded in the Microsoft community and offers the industry-specific advice you need to ensure that you get the most out of your implementation, both from the standpoint of technical excellence as well as—if not more importantly in the context of Teams—the end-user experience, understanding, and enablement.

Helping Make Microsoft Teams Work for You

What is it?

- Best practices-based guidance for a successful implementation, and change management, with Microsoft Teams—in organizations both big and small
- Advice for best practices-based security to help you achieve the safest form of data and identity security and ensure your users are safely using company data within Microsoft Teams
- Customized, industry-specific training designed to help your organization achieve its digital transformation goals with Microsoft Teams
- Assistance with content development aligned to the reality of your needs, based on your industry, company culture, and use-case scenarios

Why is it important?

Excellent training is essential for driving digital transformation and ensuring you maximize the value of every tool you use. Because so many core applications can be aggregated through Microsoft Teams, a comprehensive understanding of the platform is key to making sure your end users will be able to not only optimize their processes but also define and facilitate effective change management. This requires support from Microsoft experts to guide you through every step of adoption—whether it's assessing your organization's readiness for change, defining use-case scenarios, or scaling according to your organizational needs. Virteva is an excellent source of support in every stage of implementation, training, and adoption. Not only do we have experience with training end users from organizations of many different sizes and industries, but we also offer train-the-trainer avenues to ensure that you are able to continue to provide the support your end users need to succeed at your organization.
