Financial planning with collaboration and security embedded

About UseWise

We are building UseWise, a multi-cloud platform that will enable companies to use the public cloud in a transparent manner. On the road to reaching our goal, we are building and publishing applications that will be included in the UseWise platform.

Cost center planning with Plan365.UseWise

Cost center planning is a complex process that involves budgeting and managing costs associated with a particular business unit or department, and often requires a comprehensive solution.

Plan365.UseWise enables companies to plan and budget easily and in an automated manner using familiar Microsoft 365 tools.

Plan365.UseWise combines planning and budgeting with Microsoft security and adds user empowerment and simplicity of use to the mix.

Business process of cost center planning and budgeting solved

With Plan365.UseWise you can create companies within your group as separate planning entities in the application. You can define planning periods you need, different currencies, cost centers and charts of accounts.

Planning tables are shared with groups of individual planners and they enjoy many features making their planning process easy and intuitive.

Ease of use

CFO and controlling are in charge of the application and they create and manage the entire planning process including Microsoft security groups that are used to assign user rights. Users can only see and enter data that they have permission to. The controlling department administers access to planning data without the need for assistance or help from IT team.

Enhanced experience

Planners plan using Excel online tables that are generated by Plan365.UseWise app thus taking advantage of M365 innovation and authentication. Intuitive dashboard and familiar spreadsheet environment ensure quick adoption within the controlling and finance team.

Security and privacy

Plan365.UseWise is built on top of M365 and therefore security and privacy of Microsoft is embedded into our application.
