I'd absolutely recommend AccountingPod for anyone out there looking for authentic Xero cases. The future of accounting is heading more and more down a cloud based pathway, and it's critical that we equip our students with the right tools for the job.

AccountingPod make it easy for us to do that with rich cases that go beyond just the entries themselves.

The service from AccountingPod is great - friendly, helpful and timely support. The AccountingPod case studies provide real-life business context and engage students in developing their technical and problem-solving skills. I would recommend AccountingPod to colleagues who want to teach XeroLearn, because the content creation and the marking is done for you, which frees up valuable time for providing more one-on-one support to students with their learning in class.
