

#PDFIsNotEnough✈

Imagine you're a pilot, and there has been a fuel guidance revision that affected multiple operating manuals. With this scenario in mind, choose the option you prefer in this #PDFIsNotEnough version of "Would You Rather?"

WOULD YOU RATHER?

Toggle back and forth between all updated manuals to double check your fuel consumption calculation...

OR

See all the information across data sources at the same time through content and keyword tags?

Scroll through pages of content in tiny print to verify if and how the updates affect your aircraft...

OR

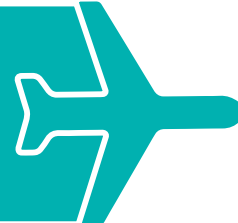

Only see what applies to your tail number through effectivity filtering?

Wait an hour or more at the gate to download entire manuals for a couple updated pages...

OR

Download only the updated pieces in a few minutes and get on your way?

Spend months manually collecting compliance data for a regulatory audit...

OR

Simply run a report to demonstrate compliance because standards and regulations have been traced all along?

HAD ENOUGH?

Don't be limited by PDF in how you manage your content and compliance.
