Making the most of your Azure Cloud investment

Optimization is generally regarded as the third stage of cloud awareness – the stage reached after companies have moved beyond Adoption, have deployed multiple resources into the cloud (Seasoned), and then begin to look for ways to reduce costs.

CHALLENGES

Optimizing the cost of Azure is a means to regain control of budgets and IT governance and to prevent Azure accounts from being suspended if monthly spend exceeds a predefined monthly limit.

IDEAL SOLUTION

There are various paths to achieving Azure cost optimization. A Cloud Optimization solution helps in identifying these paths and evaluating whether you have the “Right Fit” architecture to achieve your goal.

DESIRED OUTCOMES

ACS Solutions will work with you to analyze your cloud usage and recommend changes to optimize cost. We can also help you to implement the recommendations you choose.

ACS Solutions

Azure Cloud Cost Optimization

We help companies optimize their Azure investments. Following a structured assessment of your cloud usage, we work with you to develop – and implement – a plan to regain control of your IT budget and costs.

RESEARCH

Working from available content, interviews and workshops with your stakeholders, and reviews of your applications and environment, we follow a structured approach to capture and study all relevant information for the assessment.

ASSESSMENT

We compare and contrast our research to industry best practices, and look for patterns and discrepancies between and across all the components – applications, people, process, and tools – of your Azure environment.

ROADMAP

Based on our assessment results, we create and present to you a series of strategic and tactical recommendations to optimize your environment, along with a roadmap that is designed to your priority, cost and timeline objectives.

Customer success: Reducing costs through optimization

A global investment firm engaged us to help them optimize the cost of their Azure cloud environment. We helped them with migration, assessment, and optimization.

MIGRATION

This client initially engaged us to help move their legacy systems to the Azure cloud. We created the architecture and end-to-end solution for this initiative.

ASSESSMENT

A post-migration assessment pointed to an opportunity to reduce cost by restructuring and optimizing the team, managing the applications, and transforming the client's environment.

OPTIMIZATION

The resulting cost reduction was estimated at between 45%-50%.
