Stay Ahead of the Curve with Microsoft Fabric: The Latest Breakthrough in Cloud Development

To reach the highest customer satisfaction and the best employee experience, organizations are searching constantly for operational excellence based on data driven and objective business decisions. Though the reality is that most organizations are struggling with their data management due to the usage of multiple platforms. Fabric is the new revolution in the world of unified analytics solutions, which spans all your data workloads.

As Macaw was involved in the introduction and roll out of Microsoft Fabric, we are your partner of choice if it comes to unified data management.

Multiple challenges if the data of organizations aren't unified

1

No single source of truth due to siloed data & data duplication in several data platforms

2

Complex and challenging data governance and security

3

Complex, non-transparent cost structures

Within this special Microsoft Fabric offering we will assess your current data estate and decide in close collaboration with your stakeholders how to address the following topics:

- Avoid data duplication
- Break down data silos
- Governance
- Scattered security
- Release management & versioning
- Availability engineering and analysis
- Cost reduction through simplified data acquisition, unification and structuring

Our approach

Intake: Streamlined

Before the intake starts the client will have to share some initial information, to do a correct intake and better understand your data situation and challenges. All the information gathered will be used to set up the assessment.

Data Security: Assured

You can have confidence that your data is being securely assessed and analysed by our team of engineers and consultants. The results will be presented in a Power Point format. To make impact, we want to ask you to involve your internal stakeholders at the presentation, so they can directly experience the power of unified data management and understand the business value.

Presentation: Impactful

Prepare to be inspired! We will give an presentation to show the business value of Fabric within your organization. The possibilities are endless!

Endless: Possibilities

After experiencing our presentation, we understand that you'll be brimming with ideas and questions. This is the perfect opportunity for us to have a thorough discussion about your aspirations and timelines. We are committed to providing you with a holistic approach that delivers tangible value to your organization.
