Empower your organization with actionable insights

A typical human reviewer can manage 3 hours of quality listening time daily.

Randomly selecting calls to review, leads to missing numerous valuable insights.

mirro pre-selects insightful calls and tags the "key moments" within the call.

mirro provides a report with key moment snippets and coaching tips, which the reviewer can quickly send to team as training material.

Powerful AI communication coach at a fraction of the cost

Call scenarios: Sales Calls, Support Calls, and Interviews.

All languages: mirro works on voice tones and analyzes all human languages and cultures.

Single file and batch support for varied media types: audio and video with audio.

Auto-generates training and coaching material for continuous improvement and progress tracking.
