

Corporate E-Learning with Viva: 5-Wk Implementation

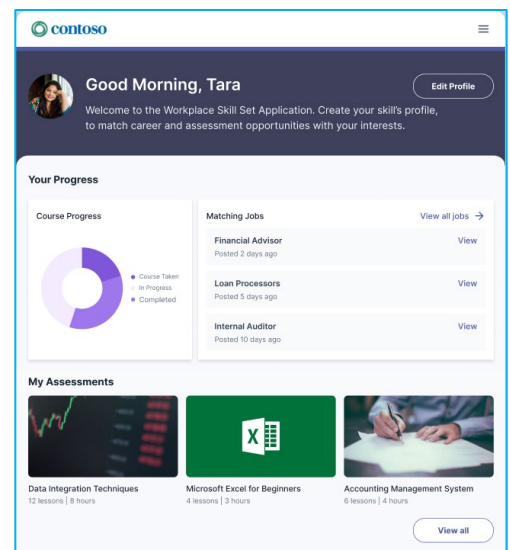

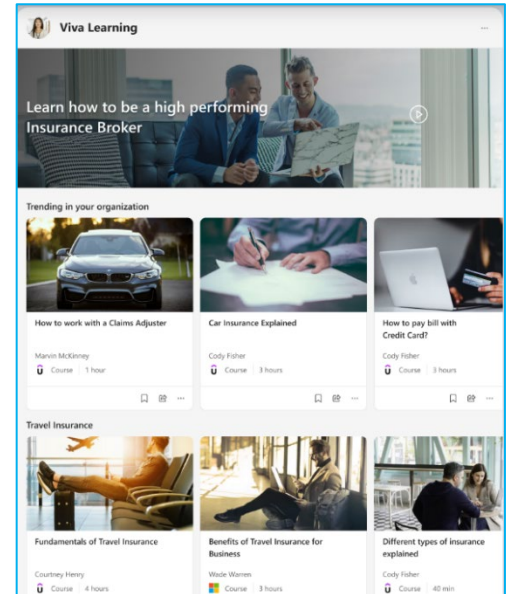

Providing employees with a robust learning platform for courses and assessments

The Problem

As an organization, it is often important to present your employees with company provided courses and assessments. You may want to refresh their knowledge of company security practices or understand how well they know a new technology. Viva Learning is a great platform to host company provided courses and assessments. However, Viva Learning on its own does not have the capability to validate that your employees actually completed these tests and stayed engaged with the course the entire time. This back-end knowledge can be crucial for a successful business and employee growth.

The Solution

The Spyglass Corporate E-Learning with Viva offering leverages Viva Learning, Viva Connection, and Power Platforms together to provide organizations with a training solution that empowers their employees to take advantage of the available tools to boost overall performance. This offering also allows employers the valuable insights that come along with these company provided courses and assessments. Spyglass Corporate E-Learning with Viva is a full-service model from requirements, scoping, design, development, and support, as well as administration and management for the platform as desired. Our approach leverages an agile methodology to quickly develop and deploy all of your Viva and Power Platform needs including Power Apps, Power Automate, Power BI, RPA, and Power Portal.
