Cloud for Legal

Empowering law departments to work more effectively, efficiently and strategically

2022

In-house law departments are busier than ever before, with many taking on increased work, while at the same time facing pressure to control costs.

Leading organizations are implementing and deploying modern processes and solutions that enable legal professionals to work more strategically, add more value to the organization, and improve experiences for all stakeholders - today and into the future.

Challenges

In-house law departments are busier than ever before, with many taking on increased work, while at the same time facing pressure to control costs. Existing technology solutions are often underutilized and still rely on highly skilled legal staff executing manual and outdated processes.

Ideal Solution

To help law departments transform into a modern and more digital law practice, Cloud for Legal, combines PwC's legal industry capabilities, services, and technology with Microsoft's state-of-the-art cloud solutions.

Desired Outcomes

We help your company's law department work more effectively, efficiently and strategically by helping to make sure your legal function has the appropriate systems and processes in place for your specific needs and goals.
