Impressive & Cutting-edge

"With Virtual Days' help and cutting-edge technology, we have been able to bring our customers into the digital age in a way that has really put us and them at the forefront. Virtual Days' creativity and willingness to solve any challenges that lie ahead, is impressive and is why they have taken a strong position in the industry today."

The best platform for online events

We've been running virtual fairs with Virtual Days for years, and all I can say is that their product is impressive. The chat feature works seamlessly and all 3D animations are a great addition. The support and tech teams are reactive and always happy to help - I believe VRD is the best platform in the online events market. I can't recommend enough.

Great features for internal events

"The platform worked great as an online kick-off event where we could share information about how the teams work and chat directly to the new co-workers. There are a lot of great features in the platform that makes it possible to connect with each other even if we are not meeting in person."

Anna Sjögård, Digital Event, Keystone Education Group

Stand out amongst competitors

"Not only do we stand out amongst our competitors being the only one to arrange this kind of virtual fair in Sweden for students looking to go abroad, but our partners have also been overly impressed, saying it is the best platform they've used. Seeing the success of our fairs we have decided to continue using the Virtual Days platform, post-covid. We are super happy with the result and the platform! Thank you so much for your support before and during the fair - the communication has been great!"

Great customer experience

Working with Virtual Recruitment Days is a great experience. I have produced four events with them and exhibitors and visitors have loved the experience. Their scalability, product, and support are top-notch.
