6 Ways our app will close jobs quicker to improve cashflow

Job management slowing down your profits? Don't get left behind. Our Job Sheet app will make it a breeze.

Changing the way you manage your jobs feels like a big gamble. Will it be easier to leave things as they are? Here are 6 ways the OutOnSite Job Sheet app will update your on-site team giving you more control, quicker turnaround times and more money in your business account making it a no-brainer.

- 1. Send it to them in seconds - Calling your guys in to grab a job sheet takes time. Now you can send jobs to their mobile phones in seconds at the touch of a button
- 2. Add to their schedule – Make sure they have the next job in front of them and in the order you want by adding jobs to their job list
- 3. Job SATNAV links - Lost engineers means lost revenue. Help your team find the next job by sending full location and sat nav links to their phones

4. All the task needed - Snags and call backs are the biggest cashflow killer. The app gives all the items that need completing so they can complete and check off on the job

5. On-site Sign-off - Back and forth between you and the customer to sign-off drags the job out. Instead your engineer can get a sign-off signature from the customer there and then

6. Instant invoicing - Checking jobs status and if invoices have been sent takes hours each week. Instead, you can see instantly once a job is signed-off on-site so you can send an invoice through our system

These 6 features you will save hours, days and even weeks off your job close times.

Evolve your job management so you can grow your business without complex software.
