

DrDoctor Quick Question

DrDoctor Quick Question solution allows hospitals to quickly validate patient lists and free up capacity at the touch of a button.

Use DrDoctor Quick Question to ask large cohorts of patients whether they still need an appointment.

Easily communicate and get rapid responses directly from thousands of patients. Reduce your waitlists and patient backlogs.

Why it works.

- Ask cohorts of patients practical questions, such as, Do you have covid symptoms? Do you have access to appropriate technology for remote consultations?
- Receive responses digitally so you can act quickly and nominate a response timeframe for patients
- Patients can opt to provide context behind their response to give you a clearer understanding of their answer
- Replace daily check in calls with an automated question on patients' appointment needs
- Quickly collect video or phone appointment preferences for your PAS for future reference
- Patients stay up to date with their care, keeping them engaged and clearly informed of next steps

How it works.

- Non-Integrated solution, so you can be up and running instantly
- Patients receive an SMS with a link to DrDoctors' secure online patient portal to respond to questions
- Set up a question for thousands of patients in less than 5 minutes
- Create a new Quick Question by simply uploading an excel list of who you want to communicate with
- Pre-set different outcomes depending on patient responses
- Low friction - patients do not need a login to respond to questions
