IMAGINATION PARK TECHNOLOGIES

Digital Communications Channel for Today's Real-Time Fans

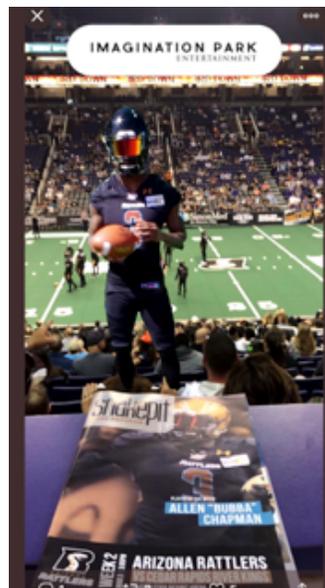

Imagination Park's new patent-pending Augmented Reality (AR) technology allows the digital world to integrate into the real world within minutes on the most advanced and affordable AR platform in the industry.

Deliver branded sports AR experiences for fan activation and engagement anywhere in the world from a mobile phone. No developers required.

Building the AR Sports Fan Community

"Imagination Park has developed its amazingly simple XenoHolographic augmented reality platform that is the future of sports fan engagement. I think this company can materially transform the fan experience in the sports and entertainment space." (Jonathan Mariner, former CFO, Major League Baseball)

"Our fans will be treated to an augmented reality experience on their phones that will provide a unique game day promotion in a way never before seen. Imagination Park created an AR platform we can use to manage our AR programs ourselves and keep content up-to-date (Chris Presson, President, 5-Time World IFL Champion, Arizona Rattlers)

The Deliverables

The Augmented Reality Platform provides unlimited potential for sports teams, organizations and events along with corporate partners to create interactive branding, marketing and sales campaigns. New revenue sources starting with an interactive gamification experience that offers a custom opt-in opening screen to trace engagement date to capture real-time analytics.

Inform, entertain and reward anyone with captivating, emotionally engaging, three-dimensional content — anywhere, anytime on their smartphone.

Consumers enjoy a game-like experience, which they can instantly share on social media with just one click.

Create, manage and distribute AR content with ease with no need for any technical expertise.
