Connecting the travel industry

Who we are

TravelgateX was born with the vocation of being a strategic partner for any tourist business. When we started in 2012 there were only four dedicated engineers, 100% committed to the development and maintenance of integrations in the travel industry. Today, our team is formed by more than 40 engineers, but despite this, our focus is still doing one thing and doing it very well.

The main reason why our clients trust us is because they are looking for three of our features: Innovation, because we have a very advanced technical profile team; networking, since we have a huge network of suppliers and customers and because they consider us as their partners, which many of them have been with us for years, and we still help them grow every day.

At TravelgateX we offer a robust solution to connectivity problems between different systems. We are the definitive solution for seamless integrations. Losing sales because the integration is not up-to-date, will no longer be a problem. We guarantee 100% the delivery of the product from the supplier, without filters or business rules.

Our service covers from the initial development of the integrations to the maintenance and revision of the same to ensure the perfect operation, minimizing the loss of sales due to technical failures. In addition, we provide access to our intranet, where you can see, in real time, the status and requests made to each provider.

We also put at your disposal a booking manager (B2B), completely free of charge, where you can see a list sorted by provider with the option to cancel and create new reservations.

Our goal is to become the perfect Technology Partner of any tourism company by offering a solution that focuses on cost savings, high level of service and wide range of products.

Mision & Vision

We allow companies to transform the way they market, sell and operate. We provide the technological infrastructure and marketing know-how to help companies harness the power of the internet to interact with other companies in a simple but effective and scalable way.

Our customers are in TravelgateX, which means they can work, do business together through the services of our platform and with our team.

We want to be an active part in the success of our customers by providing the most advanced technology in the market.

All this, providing peace of mind to our customers, and allowing them to focus on their core business: sales.

Companies rely on our solutions and benefit from the advantages of working with us: cost savings, high level of service and the widest variety of products on the market.
