

Atlas Sales & Operations Planning

Align the Team, Accelerate Smart Decisions.

The Atlas Planning Platform transforms your sales and operations planning efforts into a single, unified process that links short-term operational decision-making to long-term strategic planning. With Atlas you can automate workflows, evaluate in real-time what-if scenarios, understand financial impacts, and collaborate seamlessly, from departments to partners and suppliers across your end-to-end supply chain.

Manage Complexity and Unpredictability

Make better, faster decisions by modeling any number of what-if scenarios to explore possibilities and find the plan that delivers the best business outcome.

- ✔ What-if scenarios
- ✔ Probabilistic forecasting
- ✔ Model risk, identify opportunities
- ✔ Demand sensing

“Ultimately it came down to the fact that we weren’t just looking for a piece of software but the right partner to implement it and get it going. On that front, John Galt outshined all the other planning solutions.”

Bob Dudek – Senior Supply Chain Manager – CONESTOGA WOOD SPECIALTIES

Key Benefits

Improve Profitability

Align plans with market opportunity to quickly respond to changes in supply or demand; capitalize on new opportunities.

Create A Closed Loop

Bring many plans together into our unified data model to create a “one number” plan.

Interactive Scenario Planning

Real-time what-if scenarios provide end-to-end views of your supply chain and expose risks and opportunities. Compare demand, inventory, supply, and finance in one view.

Collaborate on One Plan

Evaluate trade-offs between demand and supply, and link stakeholders across the enterprise and work from a single source of the truth.

Automate to Accelerate

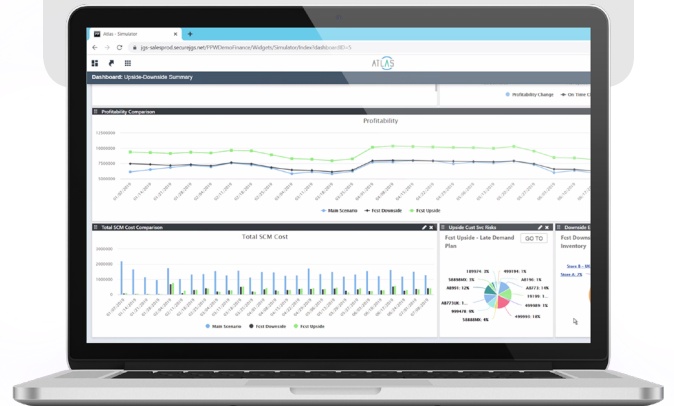

Create automated workflows that focus resources and keep the operation’s functions aligned with corporate strategy.

Real Time Visibility

Gain real-time access to plans, forecasts, gaps, initiatives, KPIs and more as they change. Always be in the know.

Connect the Dots

- End to end visibility to see, predict, analyze, and solve
- Easy integration to any data sources – internal and external
- Multi-enterprise collaboration to align and unite on a shared vision
- Quickly gain knowledge and insights with powerful AI and ML
- Digital intelligent platform to drive your decisions

Rapid Implementation for Fast ROI

Our implementation services offer a unique twist on traditional long duration enterprise software implementations. We go back to the basics and focus on training and hands on experience during the implementation to ensure a successful go-live. This allows for rapid deployments. At the same time, our platform allows for advanced configuration for your unique supply chain requirements.
