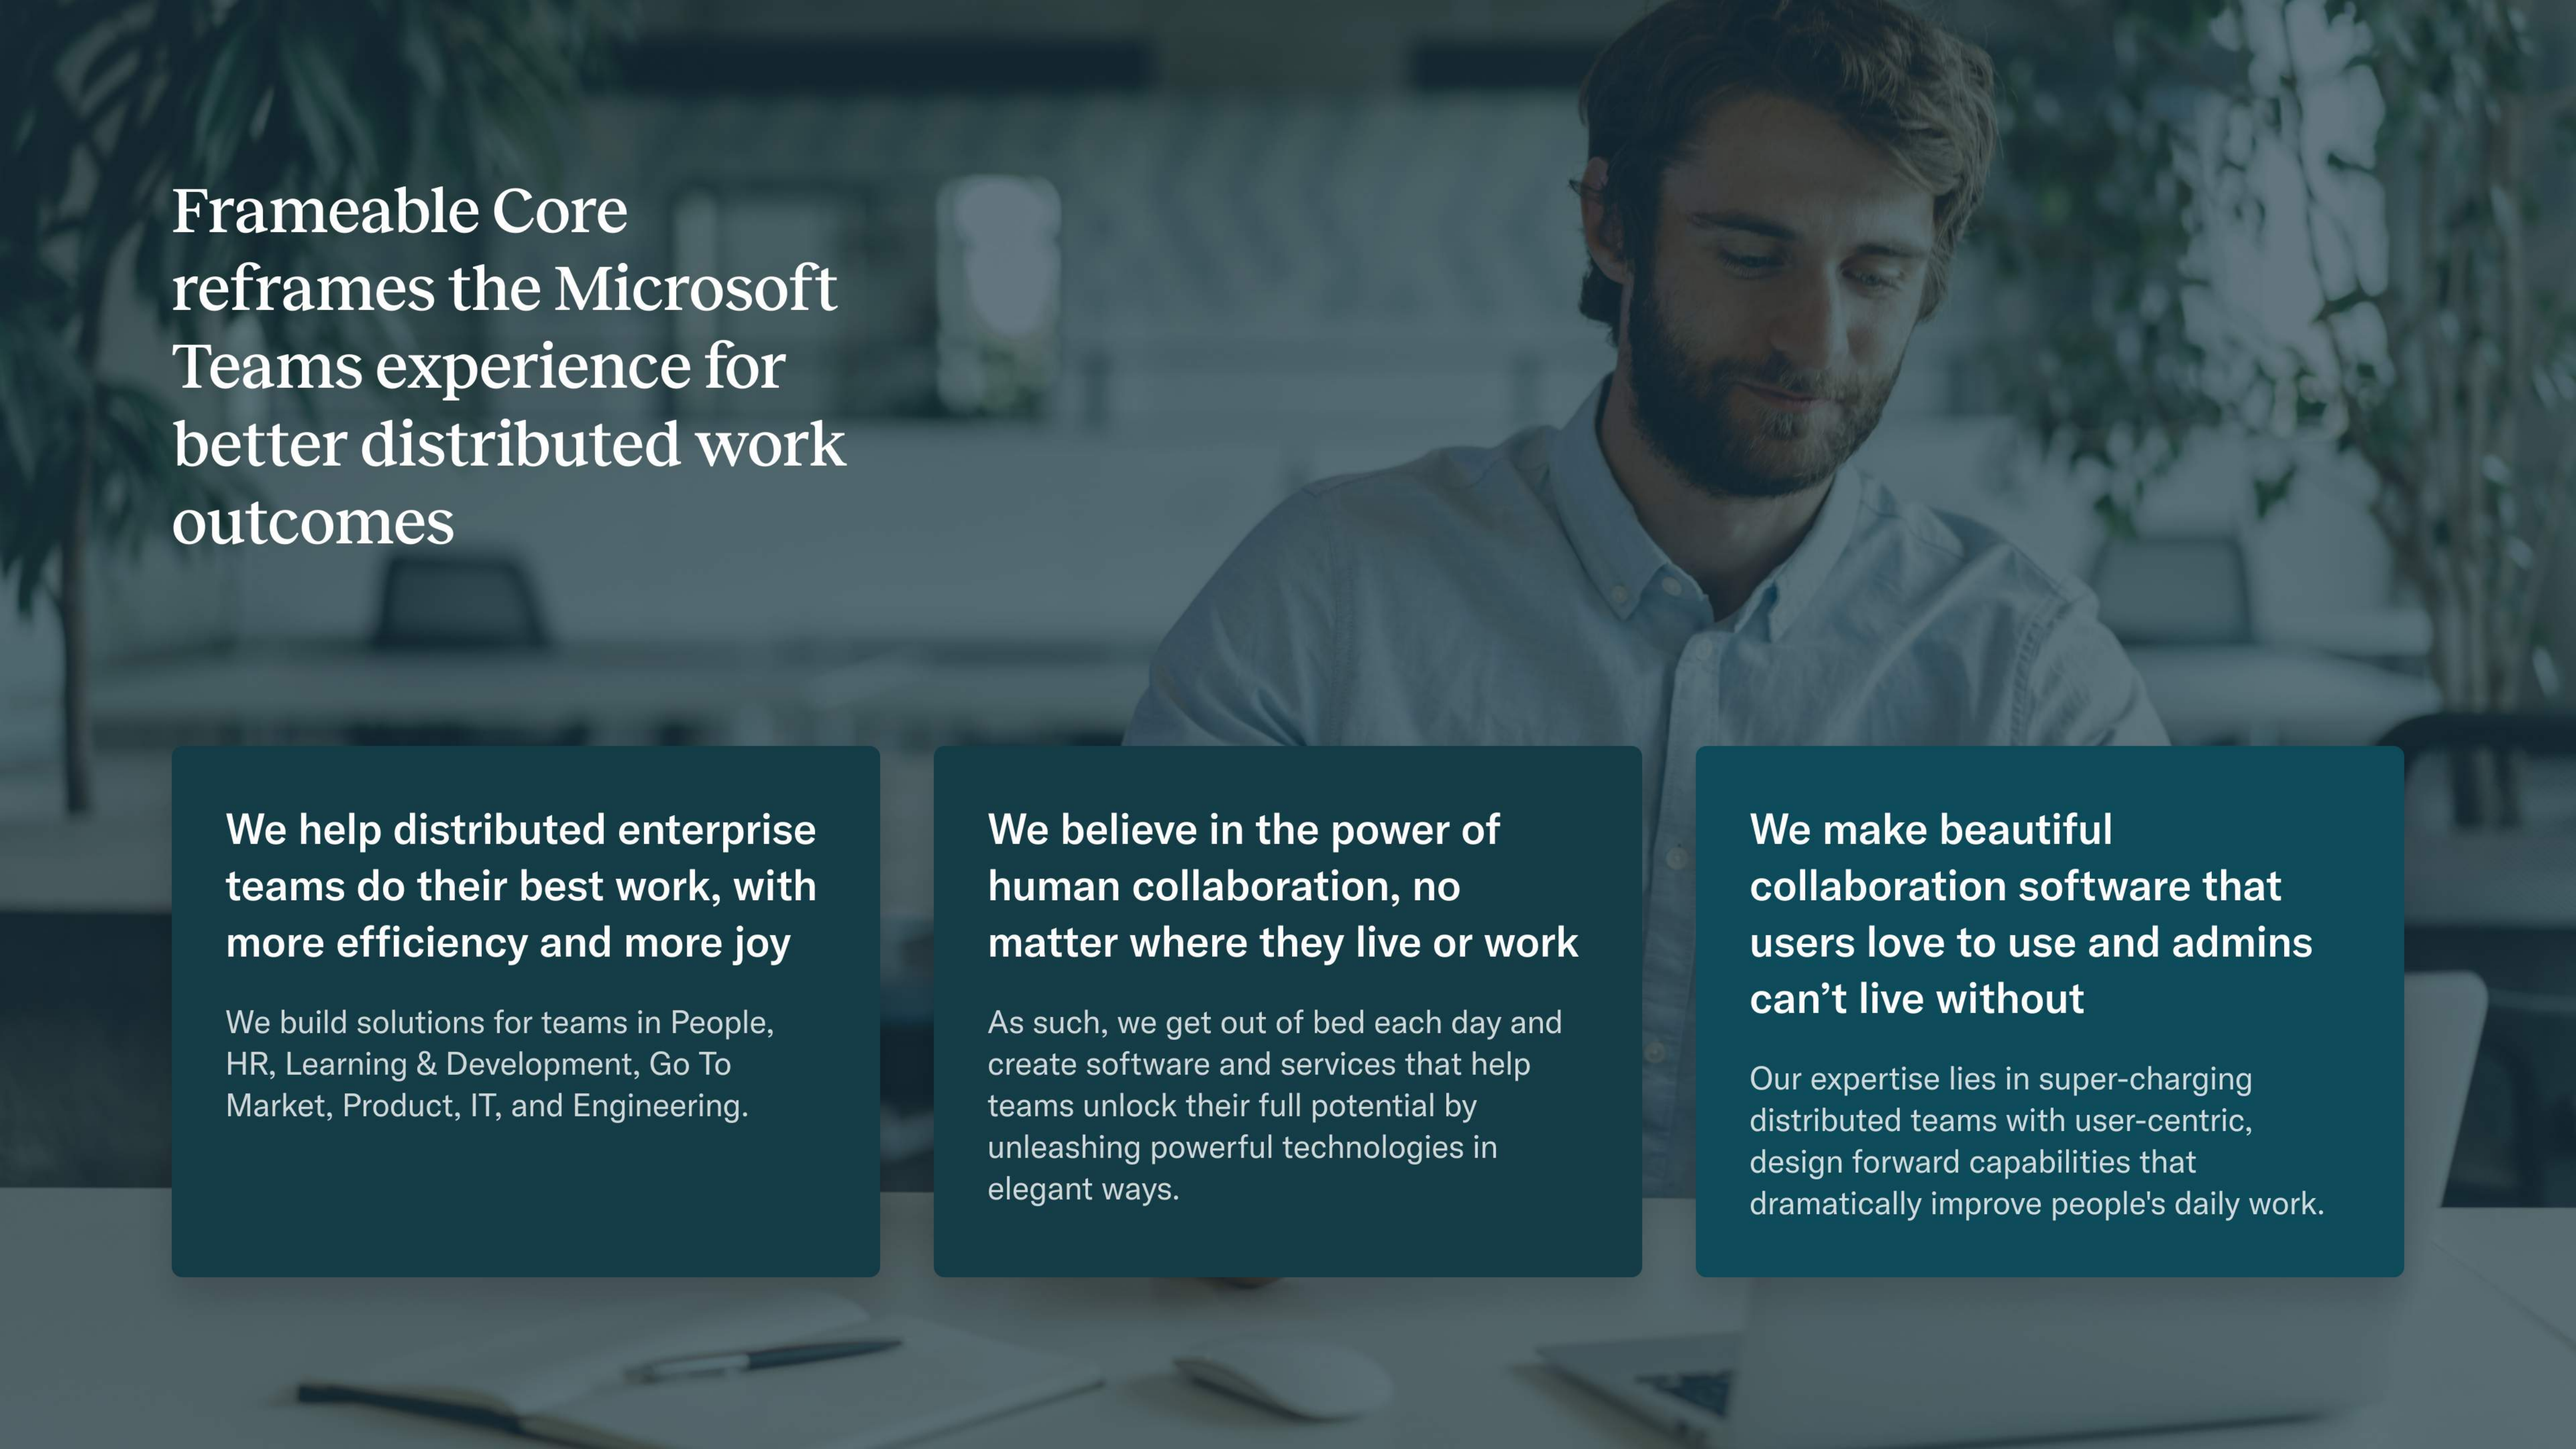
Frameable Core for Microsoft Teams

The Operating System for Distributed Enterprises

February 2024



Frameable Core reframes the Microsoft Teams experience for better distributed work outcomes

We help distributed enterprise teams do their best work, with more efficiency and more joy

We build solutions for teams in People, HR, Learning & Development, Go To Market, Product, IT, and Engineering.

We believe in the power of human collaboration, no matter where they live or work

As such, we get out of bed each day and create software and services that help teams unlock their full potential by unleashing powerful technologies in elegant ways.

We make beautiful collaboration software that users love to use and admins can’t live without

Our expertise lies in super-charging distributed teams with user-centric, design forward capabilities that dramatically improve people's daily work.

MultiShare

for Microsoft Teams

Unlock your team's full collaborative potential with multiple simultaneous screen sharing.

Multi-user screen sharing in all of your calls

Multiple people can share their screens simultaneously in Teams–up to 15 at once. Spotlight any screen at any time to center the conversation and stay on track.

Meetings as flexible as your team

Perfect for creative teamwork or training sessions–work as if you're sitting side-by-side even if you’re not physically together.

Grow your productivity

No more passing the screen share permission back and forth. More efficient meetings means more time for getting things done.

MultiShare

for Microsoft Teams

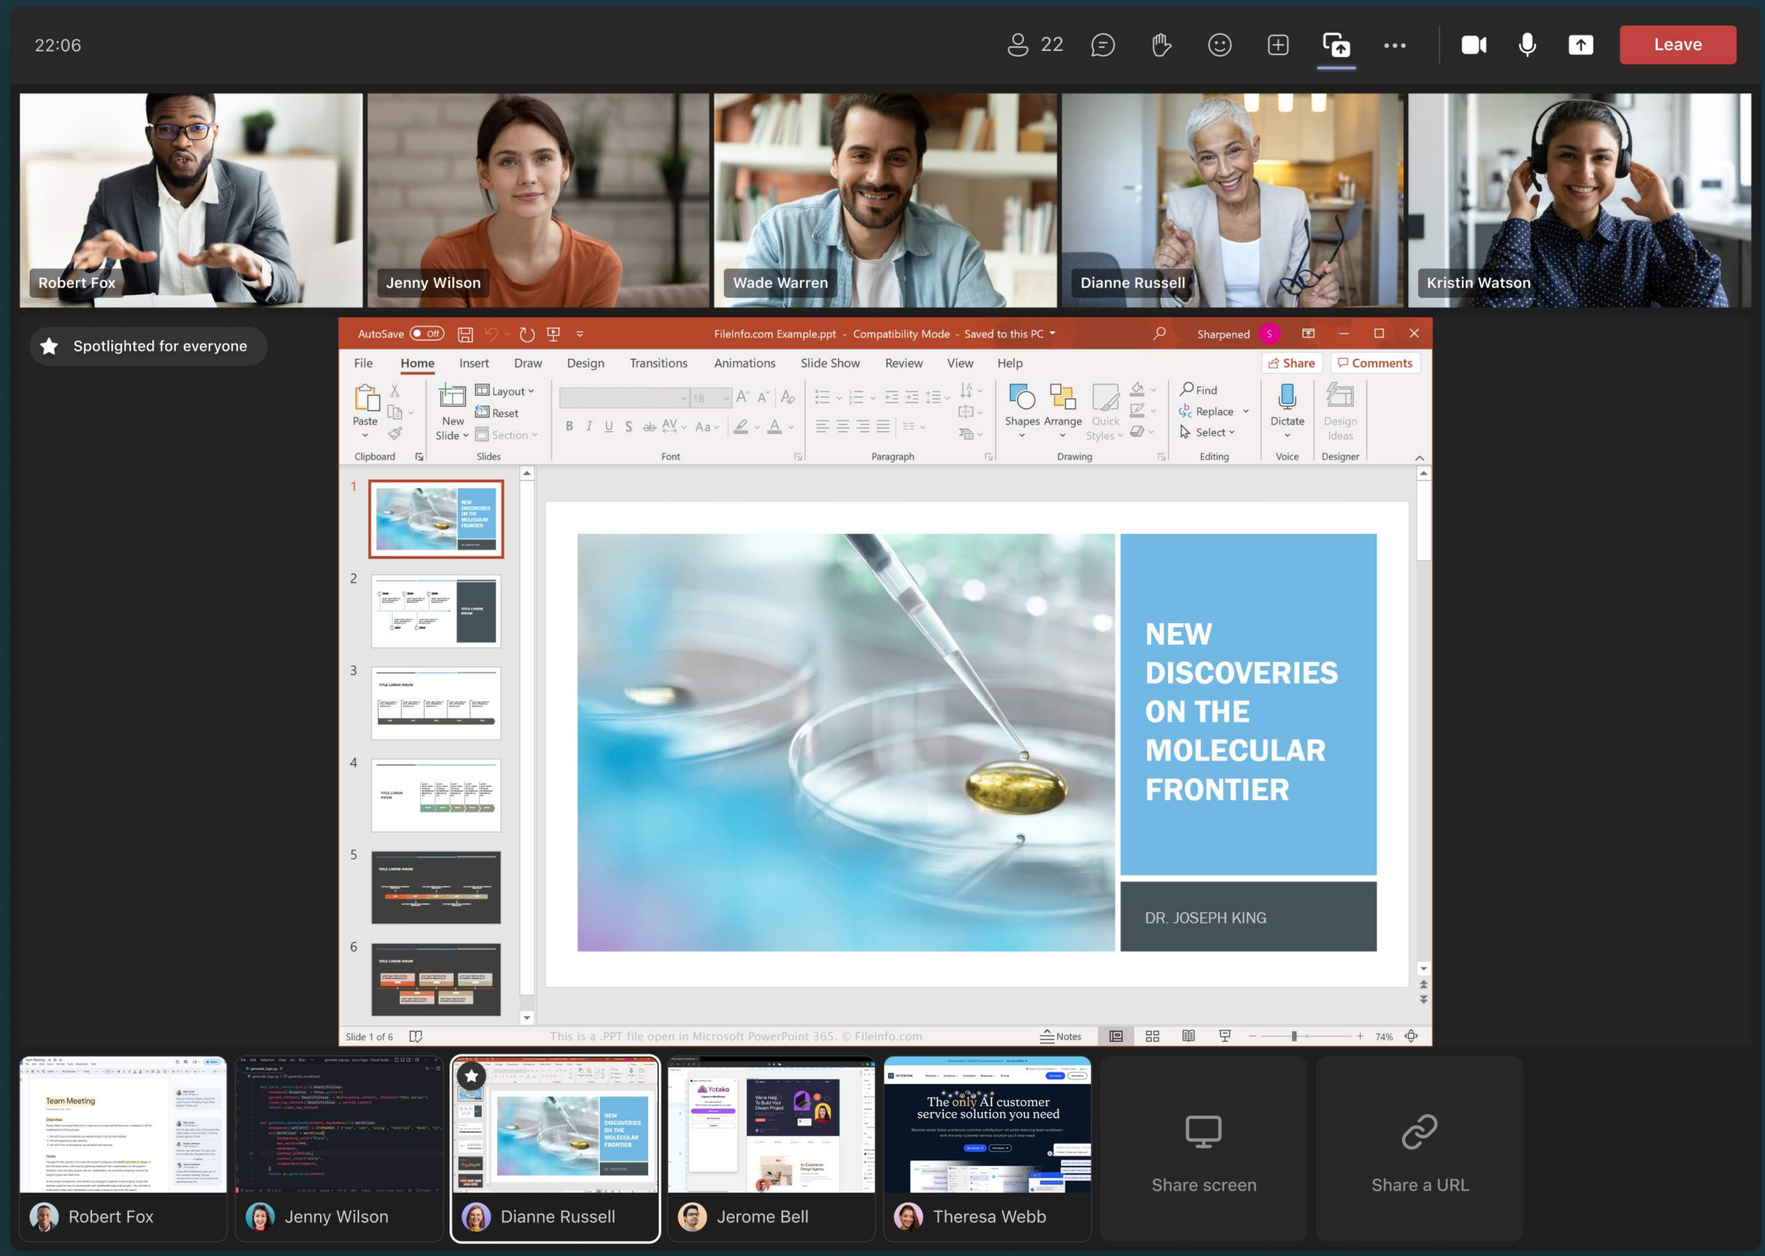
Two ways to use

Collaborative mode

Everyone in the call can share their own screen and can view any other shared screen

Training mode

Everyone in the call can share their screen, but only meeting organizers can see everyone else's screens and control what everyone sees on stage



Overview

for Microsoft Teams

Simplify access to your top chats, files, meetings, and more in one user-friendly interface, reducing the need for constant navigation through Teams.

A dashboard with everything you actually use

Customize a view in Microsoft Teams that uses flexible columns designed to surface what's most important to you.

A better search

No searching for what you use most–everything is in a single place to be viewed altogether, or filtered by specific people to find related chats, files, and more.

The flexibility you want in the product you use most

Prioritize your work with an easy-to-action view of your colleagues and most-used resources without needing to use multiple tools, windows, or pieces of software.

Whiteboard

for Microsoft Teams

Capture, organize, and visualize ideas and solutions in one place with the whiteboard tool designed for everything from a quick brainstorm to comprehensive product roadmap.

Instant in-call board creation

No need to leave Teams to kick off your next brainstorm, find an existing board or start with a clean slate all from inside a call.

Intuitive design to go beyond sticky notes

Nest Whiteboard cards inside each other to show relation, add color coding, connecting lines, and idea regions to tell a complete story.

Easy sharing and endless creativity

Effortlessly enhance collaboration among your colleagues by instantly sharing view-only or editable whiteboards, fostering seamless creativity and information flow.

Whiteboard

for Microsoft Teams

Accessible anytime

Before a meeting

Prepare notes, talking points, or agendas before your meeting

During a meeting

Collaboratively brainstorm in real-time with your colleagues during your meeting

After a meeting

Revisit actionable takeaways and update ideas from feedback after your meeting
