Accela Cannabis Regulation for Local Governments

Ensure the successful regulation of local cannabis businesses

Accela Cannabis Regulation for Local Governments assists cities, towns, and counties with cannabis oversight by automating licensing, inspection, and enforcement tasks for cannabis businesses.

Benefits

- Reduced license turnaround times

- Shorter time to value with pre-built civic application

- Stronger compliance and enforcement actions

- Improved collaboration with other departments and agencies involved in cannabis licensing review

- Better communication with applicants and other stakeholders

- 24/7 convenient online access

Handle Every Aspect of Cannabis Licensing

With automated workflows and clear approval pathways, Accela Cannabis Regulation cuts the time required to review cannabis licenses. From integrated inspection scheduling and electronic document review, every step of cannabis licensing is optimized for quick and thorough review.

Increase Public Transparency

Cannabis commerce attracts high public scrutiny. Now you can deliver real-time data and maps to the public, media and stakeholders via a secure online portal, reducing the need for staff members to support data requests.

Improve Collaboration

Licensing a cultivation, processing, or dispensary location involves coordination from multiple departments including business licensing, building, environmental health, code enforcement, and public safety. Accela brings all departments together, working from the same license record, electronic documents, and workflows to improve collaboration across all teams.
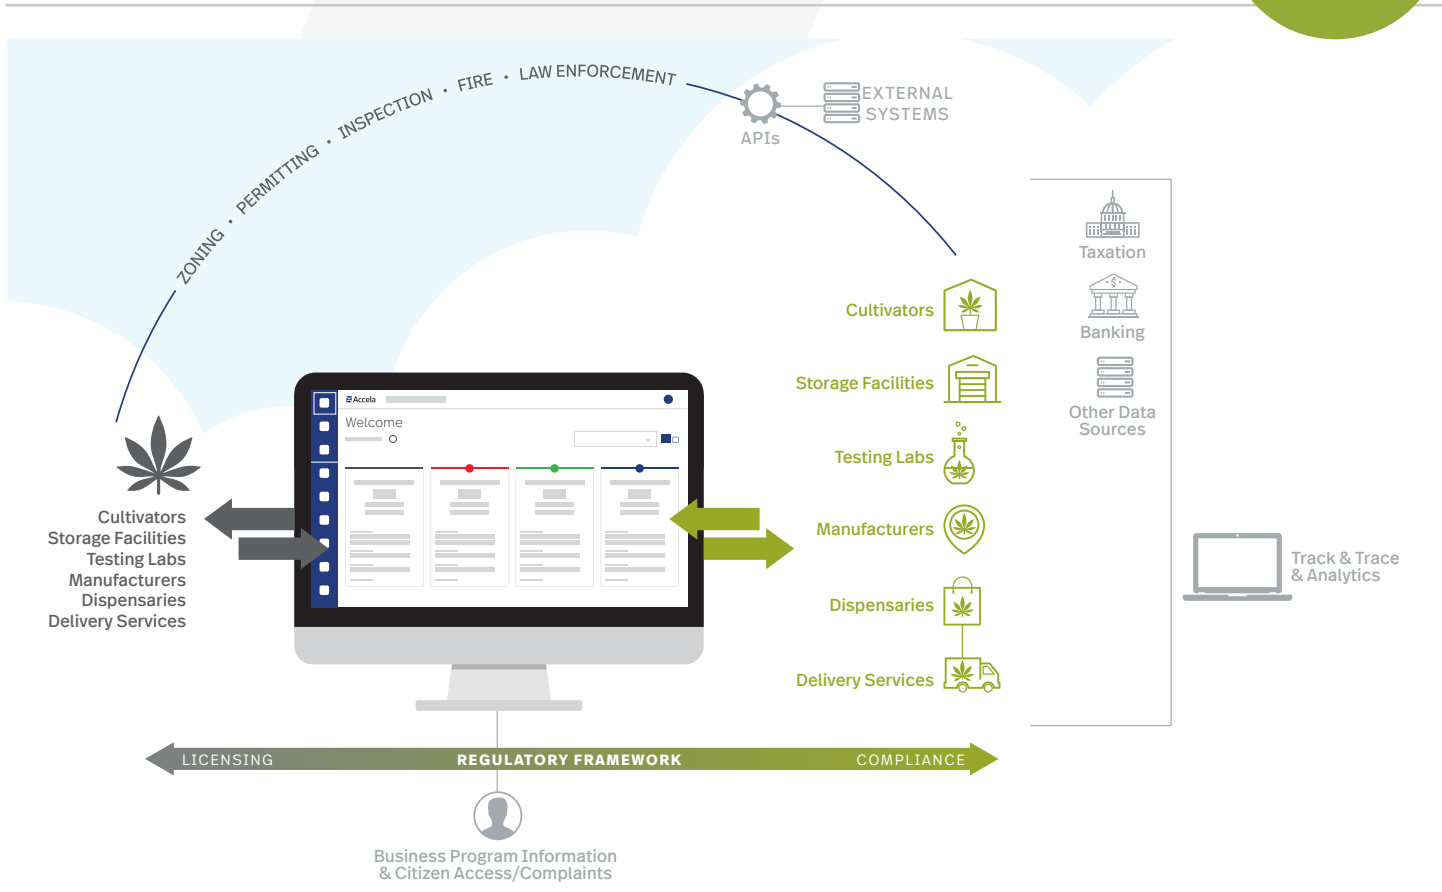

Enhance Customer Service

Take cannabis licensing operations online with 24/7 access, easy-to-follow application pathways, and online payment. With the Accela online portal, licensees can initiate an application, renew an existing license, pay fees, and upload required documentation at their convenience.

Integrate with State Cannabis Systems

Cannabis licensing at the local level frequently requires validating that state-issued licenses are current. Accela Cannabis Regulation provides an open API and development tools to integrate with state licensing systems to verify an applicant's license status.
