

The logo for HEROES, with the letter 'O' highlighted in yellow.

#SOLUTION

Reliable and futureproof data platform for research companies

---

Data has evolved into a critical business asset. What organizations need is a translation of data into information. Many research organizations and data providers are looking for data driven solutions which will enable them to process the data extraction from multiple sources in a faster, more accurate, more secure and transparent way to support their business.

How we can help you to become datadriven

We master all types of data sources and have many years of experience with various types of data platforms. Of course, we've got the tech part down. But, we also know how to inspire and guide you through a dense forest of digital opportunities and develop a solution that fits your business best.

Microsoft Azure

Building an accurate, transparent and reliable data platform in the cloud, on Microsoft Azure, creates new opportunities for converting data into visual dashboards, agile development of new applications, meeting business requirements and respond quickly to changing market demands.

KEY BENEFITS OF OUR SOLUTION

- Improve processing time data by 200%;
- Data processing time from 2 weeks to 1;
- Reduce need for manual labor by 80%;
- Improved data quality by 60%.

Data solution for research companies

Often the processing of the data extractions is done manually by one person. It takes one FTE, about half a month, to collect, unpack, rename, structure, process and archive all extractions.

In short, the current way of working is very time-consuming, error prone, not transparent enough in according to new regulations and certainly not future proof.

For Stichting Informatievoorziening voor Zorg en Onderzoek (STIZON) we have built a futureproof data-driven solution which enables them to process data extractions, from different sources, faster, more accurate, more secure and in a transparent way to better support their business model.

Reliable and accurate data

For companies as Stizon it is crucial that they can count on reliable & accurate data while guaranteeing privacy. This new Azure data platform helps them to structure data in the right way, process it and enables them to deliver it faster with zero- error prone.

Process data extraction from multiple sources faster, more accurate, more secure and in a transparent way

ABOUT HEROES

We inspire and guide our clients through a dense forest of digital opportunities.

We design and build innovative solutions that have the power to transform your business. So that you stay competitive and can continue to grow. Digital Strategy execution that makes you more agile and flexible. Advanced Analytics that gives you insight what happens now or in the nearby future by recognising specific patterns in your data. Modern user-interfaces for the web or mobile devices that are built in weeks vs months and years.

Fig 1. Example of dashboard

