What We Do At Pomerol Partners

Pomerol builds industry leading business-focused data solutions. We are not general technologists; we specialize in data and data-driven projects. We provide business value to our clients through simplifying data and making data actionable

Data Strategy

Analytics TO WIN® is Pomerol's answer to crafting a practical and prescriptive Data Management and Analytics Strategy as quickly and efficiently as possible

Data Engineering

We work with you to extract, cleanse, organise, curate, and catalog your data throughout its entire lifecycle from creation to the time it's archived using best-in-class tools

Data Analytics

Dashboards that empower data discovery and channel insights to decision makers. We automate analytic workflows, build scheduled report distribution, and embed operational alerting

Data Science

We help you identify future outcomes and trends by layering automated machine learning models over your data landscape. Predictive analytics drives value through better planning and proactive decision making

Data Products

We partner with you to build bespoke data driven commercial products leveraging the latest web development tools sets - Subscription based platforms, customer portals, analytic mashups in public facing websites
