The perfect place to create and manage your organization

Discover the benefits of your Partner Portal.

What can the Portal do for you?

How to create an organization

An organization is a management structure that determines relationships between the different activities and the members of the platform. You can create an organization easily in the Sales Management section of your Partner Portal.

Do you need to create a user?

Use the account validation system to add and modify users. As an administrator for your organization, you can register a large number of users in batches. Users will then receive an email inviting them to securely validate their accounts.

Are you looking to create a student group?

Set groups/classes according to your organization's needs. Groups may be classroom students, department team members, or any other type of subdivision that you deem appropriate. You can generate segmented reports for each defined group or compare progress across multiple groups.
