

Are you ready for Microsoft Cloud B2B Marketplace?

Microsoft is heavily investing in its commercial cloud marketplace, accelerating the exposure of innovative SaaS solutions and offering significant B2B reach. Here's why it should be your next strategic step and can be a game-changer for your business:

Offers a trusted ecosystem that aligns with industry, business and government compliance requirements, providing a stamp of trust for end-buyers.

Streamlines B2B software procurement process. Customers receive one single invoice, which includes your solution among its Microsoft services.

Eliminates the need for lengthy vendor approval processes, enabling you to sell more and secure you get paid from your customers as you operate under the umbrella of Microsoft.

Microsoft manages sales, currency conversion, taxes, and payouts for you. Having presence in 140+ countries, including tax management in 54 countries, which removes the need for you to establish a physical or legal presence in those countries.

Accelerate your sales cycle by accessing customers' cloud budgets allocated and negotiated upfront with Microsoft.

Join forces with Microsoft's global sales teams, one of the largest sales workforces dealing with SMB, mid, and large enterprise customers worldwide.

Access to Microsoft's Partner Network of 90,000+ re-sellers knowledgeable about the cloud SaaS universe, and capable of selling your solution across multiple segments (P2P).

The Problem: exhausting process.
