Attach without frontiers.

Use every popular format to include to your message. Our job is to make sure that you can reach a broad audience and not be limited by the supported file formats, for best marketing results.

There are only 3 steps to success:

1. Select the desired file and upload it to Telly through the user-friendly web interface.
2. The file will then be included as a unique embedded link, along with your personalized message.
3. Send your message and track who and when clicked on it.

It is an easy, but sophisticated way to showcase your business, evaluate how well your messages performed and measure the amount of attention you managed to attract.

Craft Personalised Vouchers, Tickets & Loyalty Cards.

Mobile Coupons (vouchers, tickets & loyalty cards) empower your business, since the use of digital coupons, has proved to have high redemption rates, according to statistics.

Tellody is here to help you reach out to your customers, 24x7, with a well-targeted digital message -email or text- informing them of the unique coupon code they just earned. Feel free to customize your voucher for better impact: choose between single or multiple use, set up expiration date, create the look and feel, configure your redemption messages and select post-redemption actions.

For iOS users, Tellody enables them to save their coupon to the Passbook application on their mobile.

A major contributory factor of this service's success is the convenience of usage, as redemption method had never been easier and more immediate. With Tellody, you can redeem either through our web service or directly via the mobile application. Just scan the code or, if you prefer, import it manually.

To quantify your actions and check how your business is performing, use Tellody to generate holistic reports on the number of open-ups and redemptions or just to view your vouchers' statuses.

Now, businesses can reap the great advantages that mobile coupons offer, especially as far as the cost effectiveness, the ease-of-use and brand loyalty are concerned.

Manage your Contacts.

Accelerate your business. Save your precious time and improve message deliverability by letting Tellody organize your contact list and merge entries in one place. There will be no duplicates and conflicts in your address book.

Just import your contact from your email account –Gmail, Yahoo, Microsoft- or drag and drop your contact files from your desktop and consolidate your list. CSV export format is also supported.

In case you want to classify your contacts, Tellody can also assign people into groups of your preference. These distribution lists will help you share your marketing actions to the specific set of individuals. Different target groups, different, customized message.
