

Automated, algorithmic emails offer each of your customers a reminder of the products they love

How SwiftERM works...

- Data analysis predicts what each customer will buy next
- Uses a sophisticated predictive-analytics algorithm
- No segmenting of products or audience
- Each customer's buying and click history is used to identify products of interest
- Automatically emails your customer details of those items
- Requires zero staff involvement

How your organisation will benefit from SwiftERM...

- Additional revenue stream from your existing consumers
- Works 24/7 to nurture consumer loyalty
- Complements existing email marketing software
- Ideal for retailers who need a fully automated solution
- Marketing automation, means zero staff and zero additional overheads
- A highly profitable addition to any company's bottom line
