About Cadence Solutions:

Cadence Solutions is a private, specialized consulting provider located in Edmonton, Canada. Our focused experience in data protection and content management makes us one of the leading voices in the push for better governance and improved usage of Microsoft 365 tools.

What we offer

If you are using Teams or Microsoft 365 in any capacity, it's likely that you have content in your SharePoint environment. Regardless of if you are actively using SharePoint or not, it's important to understand what is in your SharePoint environment and how it is managed.

Our SharePoint Health Check is a bite-sized analysis of your SharePoint environment, covering 130+ dimensions across governance, lifecycle management, change management, and administration (among others). The analysis process leverages a combination of automated reports and workshops with your people to build a wholesome picture of your SharePoint usage.

From this analysis, we will build you a tailored roadmap and set of recommendations that you can follow to better govern your SharePoint environment.

What our customers are saying

"We implemented Teams without governance during the pandemic. By having a SharePoint Health Check, we were able to identify issues and make a roadmap that works for us to improve our usage of SharePoint and Microsoft 365."
