Youredi Rapids Order2Invoice Data Connectivity

- Are you sending or receiving orders?
- Do you have multiple customers, suppliers, and other trading partners?
- Do you want to save operational costs and scale your business with the rapid onboarding of new sales channels?
- Do you still handle purchase orders, advanced shipping notifications, invoices and other documents as PDFs exchanged over email? Or do you utilize platforms that do not conveniently integrate into your main operational system?

Youredi Rapids Order2Invoice connectivity is the right choice for you to automate the ordering process with old and new customers and vendors.

Why choose Youredi Rapids Order2Invoice Data Connectivity?

When you have multiple trading partners and interfaces to integrate with, do-it-yourself (DIY) integrations are inefficient, too slow to deploy, and resource-consuming. Outsourcing those tasks to your ERP provider or a third party that possesses limited knowledge about your business domain and has very untransparent and inflexible pricing as well as a clunky onboarding process is not optimal either. Many choose a partnership with data integration vendors providing fully managed integration solutions to overcome this challenging situation.

Youredi Rapids Order2Invoice connectivity is a fully managed solution that allows you to stay focused on your core business. At the same time, our team will manage your integrations, from onboarding all your trading partners to managing and maintaining your connections.

What do we offer - product features

A modern platform service that supports your growth and automation

Your customers and vendors expect the digitalization of orders and messages. We onboard new trading partners in a few days on your behalf.

Connecting you and your trading partners to exchange vital data and eliminate manual work efficiently

The solution collects the data from many sources and endpoints, persists it, and harmonizes it, so end-users' systems can easily consume it. We connect different sources and use different methods, but no screen scraping. Our solutions have a zero screen scraping guarantee.

Conversion between your and your trading partners' in-house formats

We support any data format. Many companies today already have EDI or API communication capabilities. However, each industry, geography, or organization tends to have its own message standards and formats or interpretations thereof. We help to harmonize all formats through message interpretations, mapping, and transformation work. Once the interface is set up, it is reusable.

Cleansing and enrichment of data

You might need a solution to maintain links between different references allowing you to get the information directly into your system using your system's known references. Youredi handles other data cleansing and enrichment of data needs. Simply discuss your specific needs in the setup phase.

Fully managed service including onboarding of trading partners

You don't have to deal with anyone else to make it work. The service is fully managed, meaning we will take care of the entire process from the design phase through deployment to maintenance, including onboarding all relevant stakeholders. Neither do you have to invest in in-house integration technology or the IT staff required to operate it.
