Challenge

Client had the challenge of maintaining a network of 400 independent third-party depots and locations across the globe. As that network continued to grow, their business processes had to scale along with that growth in order to continue providing the level of service their customers have grown to expect.

Solution

Developed integrated business processes across core financial operations. Simplifying and integrating these processes helped eliminate manual effort and make work more efficiently. Built-in automations and enhanced functionality gave real-time insights to support decision making.

Results

Through PwC's Finance Ready, they were able to transform back-office operations. This solution provided real-time data and flexible, consolidated workflows that empower employees to work more efficiently - while also increasing the ability to scale as a business.
