

Work is not a place, it's everything we accomplish together.

Mural's collaboration system for hybrid work

Hybrid work has changed where we work — now it's time to change how we work. Designing a hybrid collaboration workflow that leads to extraordinary work requires purpose and intention — you need a system that can support multiple tools, teams, and time zones.

Empower your hybrid team to do their best work with Mural

Mural helps team members collaborate, no matter where they are. Bring everyone together in Mural's shared space to brainstorm, strategize, plan, coordinate, and more — in real-time or async.

Why hybrid work is different with Mural

With a thoughtfully designed approach to your technology, workflows, and meetings, you can ensure all collaborators have the ability to participate and speak up. Mural can serve as your single source of truth for team members — allowing everyone to come together without relying on real-time or face-to-face meetings.

A trusted partner in hybrid transformation

"I see Mural and the LUMA System as a Venn diagram of the tool and methods that enable our employees to do their best work from anywhere — together. Mural is the technology and LUMA System is the mindset that facilitates great outcomes. Together, they've made transitioning to hybrid work more frictionless for us."
