

Connected care for family and friends

We use a care management system called Cura throughout our care home. Cura is a modern and intelligent system for care planning and helps us to digitally monitor all elements of our care delivery.

We understand many people outside the home are involved in the wellbeing of each of our residents. Even though some of you rarely meet it is still possible to build a network of collaborative care to ensure a person-centred approach with the resident's needs and wishes at the centre.

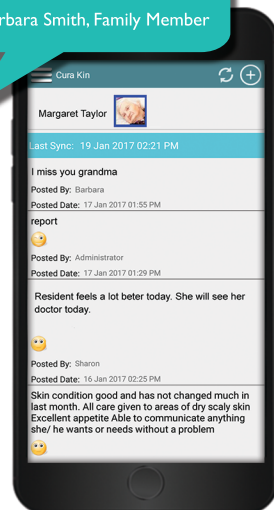

Cura now features a secure online portal called Cura Kin. This means authorised family members and friends can be given secure access to see at the touch of a button about their loved one's general wellbeing, meals and participation in activities. Feel part of the care delivery with contacts with the home, the ability to have a discussion with the Care Workers and your loved one. Feel like you're always by their side, even if you are unable to visit as frequently as you'd like with the daily updates on hand you will always feel involved. We encourage you to upload photos that you want to share with your loved one and to help the Care Workers to be up to date with what's happening within the resident's family.

With the Cura Kin application you get:

- Updated on your relative's health, mood, participation in activities, daily meals - All in real-time with the latest available information.
- Regular feedback - On the wellbeing of your loved one.
- A two-way exchange - Of messages, photos and video with the care provider and your loved one.
- Access the resident's assigned doctors and care workers' contact information - In case of emergency.
- A record of service users' preferences to their care delivery - Consent to any care plan changes and DNAR status will be updated.
- Daily Report and Discussion - Family members and friends can share and upload photos to keep your loved one informed of the recent happening and keeping them involved.

"Cura Kin keeps me informed as to what Mum has been up to and if her care plans have changed. It allows me to stay in touch with her even when I am on holiday."
