

ZEUSCALE

Cloud scaling at the speed of lightning.

Helping enterprises scale cloud adoption quickly & securely

This value-added offering provides AIS customers with a single dashboard to create and provision cloud resources. Business users can use the self-service portal to browse, request, and track cloud services. Administrators can use the solution to create and manage products, and track and manage requests. The result is accelerated and secure cloud adoption in the enterprise.

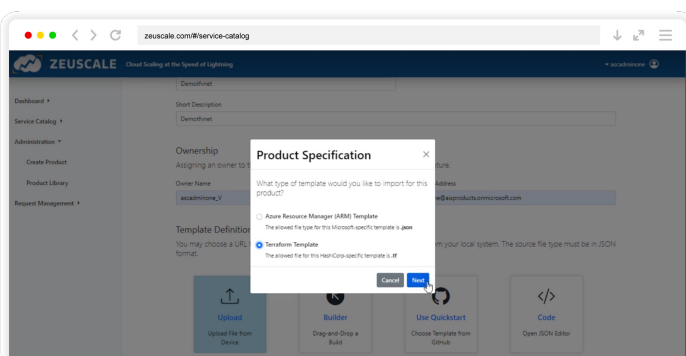

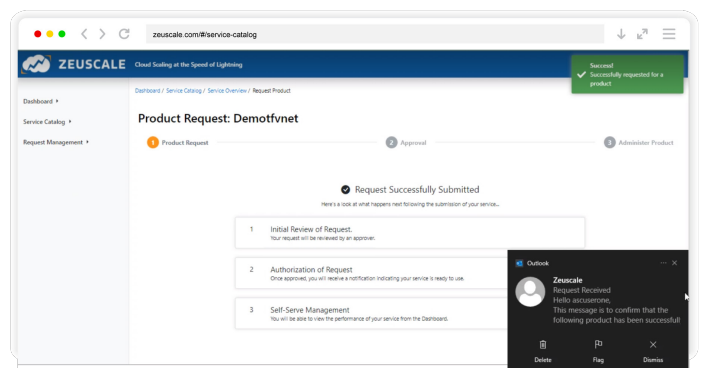

Self-service product catalog

End-users can browse from pre-approved products an administrator has made available to the enterprise in Zeuscale or ServiceNow and view a summary of the product to see if it meets their requirements.

Submit and track requests

Once submitting a request, users will be able to track the approval and provisioning status of the product and will receive updates as the request makes it's way through the process with Zeuscale's email notification feature.

Define and manage products

An administrator can define and update products with Infrastructure-as-Code (IaC) for Azure Resource Manager (ARM)- and Terraform-based product definitions using several options for product definition, support for tagging, and more.
